Stock Market so Dull Many Take a Holiday and Those on 'Change Have Little to

MANHATTAN AGAIN WEAK.

The attendance on the floor of the scient explanation of the pronounced lack of inactivity. Anticipating a full and weak market, because of the known unfavorable figures of the bank statement, many bankers took

The absence of any large public interest in the market enabled them to do this without prejudice to the business. Brokers' rooms were bare of traders and the dullness was noticeable everywhere.

After a dull but generally easy opening with stocks at lower figures than last night's closing, a general disposition was shown to wait for the official bank statement before taking a definite stand.

A reassuring feature of the maret was the absence of anything that ooked like enforced liquidation or selling pressure in a majority of the ssues. Stocks were weak, but not from pressure caused by reduction

London markets were generally better, and the International list Shares. howed smaller fluctuations, but the trading was inconsequential.

Sentiment abroad has been so genrally bearish of late that most London purchases in this market are either for the purpose of quick profit taking or on orders cabled from here in advance of the New York

All the Traction shares were weak to-day for the greater part of the Metropolitan sold below 140 and Brooklyn Rapid Transit was weak at 64 1-4.

Manhattan "L" stock sold off on the well-defined gossip reports that the city might interfere in the deal whereby the Interborough Rapid Transit Company proposes to take over the "L" for 999 years.

It is said that certain city officials may try o overturn the plan because they claim the privilege conferred mon the Subway Company did not entemplate its merger with the "L."

The reaction movement in Louisville and Nashville was accredited to movement of powerful interests ainst the Gates-Harris group of speculators.

John W. Gates is said to be still long of the stock, and for some time a determined effort has been made to boom the stock. Until the drive against the Westerners it was not generally known that they had any further interest in L. and N.

All the Mexican railroads were materially benefited in to-day's market by the announcement that the Mexican Government had taken an important step toward adopting the gold standard.

The change is to come gradually, and as most of the Mexican roads are now owned in Wall street the benefietal effect of the movement is already eing felt.

The Waldorf-Astoria group was elling stocks to-day. Their specialties were the industrial issues and a lew of the railroads.
